

ENFP “The Champion”

ENFP's are warm, enthusiastic people, typically very bright and full of potential. They can become very passionate and excited about things. Their enthusiasm lends them the ability to inspire and motivate others, more so than we see in other types. They can talk their way in or out of anything. They love life and strive to make the most out of it.

ENFP's have an unusually broad range of skills and talents. They are good at most things in which interest them. They may go through several different careers during their lifetime. An ENFP needs to focus on following through with their projects, this can be a problem area for some of these individuals.

Most ENFP's have great people skills. They are genuinely warm and interested in people. They have the special ability of being able to understand people, even after a short amount of time. ENFP's are basically happy people. They may become unhappy when they are confined to strict schedules or tasks they perceive as boring. They have the ability to be quite productive with little supervision, as long as they are excited about what they're doing.

ENFP's are charming, risk-taking, sensitive, and people-oriented individuals. They have many gifts which they will use to fulfill themselves and those near them.
