

ISTP “The Crafter”

ISTP's have a drive to understand the way things work. They like to take things apart and see the way they work. ISTP's have an adventuresome spirit. They are attracted to motorcycles, airplanes, sky diving, surfing, etc. They thrive on action and are usually fearless. ISTP's are very independent, needing to have space to make their own decisions. Their sense of adventure and desire for constant action makes some ISTP's prone to becoming bored rather quickly.

ISTP's are loyal to their causes and beliefs, and are firm believers that people should be treated with fairness. They like and need to spend time alone, because this is when they can sort things out in their minds most clearly.

ISTP's have a lot of natural ability which makes them good at many different kinds of things. However, they are happiest when they are centered in action-oriented tasks, which require technical skill. They take pride in their ability to take the next correct step. ISTP's are positive, full of good cheer, loyal, generous, and trusting.

Possible Career Paths for ISTP's:

- Police / Detective Work
- Forensics
- Computer Programmers
- Engineers
- Carpenters
- Mechanics
- Pilots / Drivers
- Athletes

